

A SINCERE NOTE FROM CALEB

Do you ever feel like you can only see as far ahead as the day you are living in even though you know there is so much more to do than can be accomplished in many days? We have been feeling that way as we juggle home, school, church, work, and training responsibilities. I am so thankful for Jesus' encouragement when He says, "Don't worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble." Matthew 6:34 We are amazed at what we are accomplishing by His grace!

A heartfelt "Thank you!" to all who are praying for and financially supporting the God ordained mission project to the Guyanese people. In preparation for our departure, we have begun speaking to area churches, friends, and relatives. Last month we made presentations to the Hendersonville and Arden SDA Churches. Many individuals felt moved by the Holy Spirit to partner with us in this calling. Praise God! We have a way to go yet, but again He says, "Don't worry about tomorrow."

Glenda knows her flight instructor has been hand-picked by God. And can you believe it, she now has 25 hours in the air of private pilot instruction and should be ready to fly solo very soon! We are so proud of her, though it still worries me a little. I pray and tell her, "Fly with your angels," whenever I see her head off to flight school.

The children are also in training. Once a week Jordana is spending the day with our medical missionary friends who are teaching her about natural remedies, gardening, bee keeping and many other useful skills for the mission field. The spark that ignited Enoch's fire for mechanics is a full-blown fire since our visit to the AWA headquarters. He cannot wait to spend more time with Kyle in plane maintenance to learn more, and in the meantime, he is helping our neighbors with their lawn mowers and four wheelers. Jordana and Enoch both continue to develop their musical abilities which will be such a blessing in sharing and praising God with the Guyanese.

Our life as missionaries-in-training is a faith growing one. We feel incredibly challenged and blessed at the same time! Likely you are experiencing the same as a missionary supporter, but we want to encourage you because this mission belongs to the One who is calling you, and He will not only provide the ways for you to support His mission, but He will grow you and bless you in ways you do not expect! God is good!

PROJECT NEEDS:

In 2018, a kind donor provided our Learning Center with 29 adult plastic chairs along with children's chairs.

Over the years, the chairs have been used in various events such as weddings and crusades in different villages.

When this happens, the small congregation at the Learning Center suffers with minimal chairs. Could you help us with purchasing more chairs?

PRAYER REQUEST:

For God's people to stand fast and show there is no fear in the face of world events because there is Hope in Jesus Christ.

For a project manager and committed pilots willing to answer the call to serve with AWA in these uncertain times.

Your AWA Mission Family soon to be stationed at the Guyana Mission Project:

Caleb Runne, Glenda Esudero, Jordana and Enoch
