

THERE'S A LAND THAT IS FAIRER THAN DAY

Have you ever felt overwhelmed? I can almost hear a “yes, of course!”

A few days ago I woke up with that uncomfortable feeling, and I knew I had to start the day. of course; but with heaviness in my heart. “Father, I thought, I just don’t know how I am going to navigate through this day.” All the responsibilities and concerns came to my mind like a flood. I knew those thoughts were not coming from my Heavenly Father, and right after I recognized who was behind those doubtful thoughts, I pleaded for help to the One who promises to be with me always- until the end of the world (Matthew 28:20).

He answered right away in the most wonderful way! I heard a melody coming from upstairs; it was one of my children playing “Sweet By and By.” The lyrics in Spanish (my native language) revived in my mind, bringing that peace that surpasses all understanding (Philippians 4:6).

That’s the God our family is excited to share with the people of Baramita, Guyana, and everywhere! The One who is walking us through this world, holding our hand, filling our lives with peace and assurance that there's a land that is fairer than day!

I was grateful and able to face my day with the assurance that my Heavenly Father would give me the strength I needed and be able to rebuke those feelings of being overwhelmed that the enemy was responsible for. (Isaiah 41:10)

God bless each one of you!
