

All Things New

A country song written by the French Family Singers during the low point of the Covid 19 pandemic talks about the good times that will ensue “When the World Starts Spinning Again”.

As I contemplate the world through the lens of the Bible’s apocalyptic vision, I believe the world is getting closer to the day that it will stop spinning the same old way, in favor of the “new”

order of things in the day that our Lord makes all things new.

In Alaska, where we are seeing the beautiful, warm, and exceedingly short summer coming to an end, we thank the good Lord for the opportunities this summer has given us to reach out to our fellow men and women both in the urban areas and in the villages.

For the last few years we have been blessed by a nesting pair of Sandhill Cranes that return

*And He that sat
upon the throne
said, Behold, I make
all things new.
And He said
unto me,
Write: for these words are true and faithful.*

—Revelation 21:5

each spring to live near our runway. This week the Crane population of the area has gathered at a local bird sanctuary in preparation for their annual fall migration. It's kind of like a Crane Camp Meeting.

We can take comfort from these birds. Despite the turmoil of this world, they continue raising their young, tending to their business. We are told that if our Heavenly Father cares for them and watches out for them, He will surely do much more for us.

We wish to thank our supporters for the prayers and the financial resources that are sent our way.

God bless you all,
Jim and Linda Kincaid
