

Central America Mission Project Update

SHOCKING NEWS!

We want to share the latest developments about how God directs the Central America Project so that the message of salvation may spread rapidly! Surely, by the end of reading this news, you will join us in praising God.

“Caleb,” Glenda said, “There are so many places that need medical missionary training. How can we accomplish such a monumental project? Instead of four days, let’s try compressing the clinic schedule to three days. We need to be more efficient with our time to visit as many churches as possible and offer medical missionary training to increase the number of workers.” Caleb thought for a moment and nodded in approval.

Later that same day, they received a visit from a well-known pastor who shared an interesting invitation. “What would you think about starting to produce health materials for radio and TV? Also, a health conference is being planned. Would you be willing to coordinate it and train the pastors?” Caleb and Glenda were speechless but tried not to appear astonished by the incredible offer. The pastor continued, “I’m going to make the proposal to the leaders, and we’ll see what happens.”

Caleb and Glenda could hardly believe it, but deep down, they both had that strange, exciting feeling that the Holy Spirit was working from various angles to awaken medical missionary evangelism in the country. Shortly after obeying the “still small voice” of the Holy Spirit, Caleb, Glenda, and their children were on their way to the nation’s capital. The president of the newly established church union had requested to meet this humble family.

In the meeting, the president unexpectedly stated his conviction that this family was the instrument to be used by God for the health training of approximately 200 people. What an honor! This medical missionary training would be immersive for two full days in November. It would be a congress in which all the country's pastors, their wives, and regional and local health directors would receive practical training in healthy lifestyles and how to apply the medical missionary method to evangelize. Glory to God!

“Between then and the congress,” said the Union president, “you would have to be introduced to each of the three regional churches so they can become acquainted with you.” He continued his comment thoughtfully: “We as leaders are responsible for the fact that this message has not been taught previously. With the time we have left before Jesus’ return, we need to correct this error.”

Thank you in advance for your intercessory prayers. How powerful they are! We desire a spiritual revival that shakes people out of their lukewarmness and that we all work together to bring more souls to Heaven. Christ is coming very soon!

“And the Lord, He is the One who goes before you. He will be with you, He will not leave you nor forsake you; do not fear nor be dismayed.” Deuteronomy 31:8
