

FIRST ACTIVITIES OF 2025

Dear friends and partners of Adventist World Aviation, with joy, we share the first activities of 2025 in the Guyana Mission Project in Mabaruma. Each day here has been an opportunity to serve, teach as Jesus taught, and witness the transforming power of His love.

Upon our arrival, we attended the funeral of our dear brother, Mark, offering support and comfort to his family through the promises of God. About 15 years ago, Mark and all his big family were reached by AWA missionaries, who introduced them to the Bible and the truth about the Sabbath. His life was utterly transformed, and his faith led him to share this message with others. He started an SDA church on his property, which remains active today. Brother Mark's story is a living testimony of how AWA missionary work brings hope and salvation to remote places, impacting entire generations and families.

We were also invited to participate in a Pathfinder camp, where we shared knowledge and experiences with young people and children. Together, we reflected on the spiritual lessons that nature teaches us, reinforcing our commitment to raising a new generation of faithful disciples.

Another memorable moment occurred at sunset when a group of children eagerly waited in front of our house to welcome us. Their pure and sincere joy filled our hearts with gratitude. We took this opportunity to share a Bible story, pray together, and invite them for an exciting soccer game after sunset.

Something as simple as a soccer ball donated to the project has been a powerful tool for connecting with the children in the community and, consequently, with their parents. Through this, we build friendships that allow us to teach Christian values engagingly, encouraging them to pray, praise God, and practice kindness and love for others.

Each smile, each prayer, and each moment of fellowship is an opportunity to plant seeds of God's love in the hearts of these children. We are immensely grateful for your prayers and support, which make this mission possible.

Would you like to be part of this mission? Your donation can help expand the reach of AWA's projects, bringing the Gospel, medical aid, and hope to even more people in remote regions. Join us in making a difference!

Please pray that we may be a blessing to the families of Mabaruma and that the reach of the everlasting Gospel may continue to grow.
